

To Whom It May Concern,

2/27/04

I am a current client of Darlene [REDACTED] and have been extremely impressed with her accuracy and service as a psychic. I have had many effective readings with Darlene in the past several years and have referred her to many other satisfied clients.

The first time I hired Darlene was in November of 2001. I lived in Redwood City, California, but was in Chicago with a friend preparing to leave on a trip to Portugal. On the day of our trip my friend could not find her passport. We frantically searched everywhere, but could not locate it. My friend travels often, and was convinced that her passport had been stolen.

I phoned Darlene in California to see if she should assist us in finding the passport. I had met Darlene, briefly several months earlier, and was surprised that she remembered who I was. Over the phone, she informed my (very skeptical) friend that the passport was not stolen, but that it was in the pocket of a green coat that was hanging in a closet with mirrored doors and a red scarf on the floor. Much to our astonishment, when I later returned home to California I checked my bedroom closet – which had mirrored doors. In the closet was my friend's green blazer with the passport in the pocket, and a red scarf was on the floor.

My friend realized that the last time she had traveled she had arrived in San Francisco, and stayed at my house for an evening. She had left her coat and passport at that time.

What was amazing is that Darlene did not know anything about my friend or me and had never been to my house. She did not ask my friend any questions.

Another time Darlene astounded me was when a prediction she made about me to my mother, two years ago, came true. She had told my mother that I would end a relationship in August of 2003, and that September of 2003 would be the worst emotional time of my life. Sure enough, I ended a love relationship in August of 2003, and then dealt with the most challenging circumstances of my life the following month was absolutely most emotional pain I had ever experienced due to many unforeseen circumstances. I HAD NOT KNOWN that Darlene had made this prediction to my mother until my mother retrieved the notes she had taken and filed from the reading, in OCTOBER of 2002.

Aside from being an accurate psychic, Darlene is also a very warm-hearted, honest and generous woman. It is with pleasure that I recommend her highly to anyone seeking psychic assistance.

Sincerely,

Carmen McKay
